

Subject: RE: A Point of Clarification
From: Miki Payne <Miki@hbdrollinger.com>
Date: 03/14/2016 10:26 AM
To: Donald Duckworth <duckworth.donald@gmail.com>

I think I will need a verbal on this one, with question and answer...I am way out of the loop on this part.

m

Miki Payne
Operations Manager

8929 S. Sepulveda Blvd.
Suite 130
Los Angeles, CA 90045
(310) 417-8048 Ext. 15

From: Donald Duckworth mailto:[duckworth.donald@gmail.com]
Sent: Monday, March 14, 2016 10:19 AM
To: Miki Payne; John Ruhlen
Subject: A Point of Clarification

I think it's important to our going forward to understand that what is suggested in the draft term sheet is the forming of a new, "independent corporate or other entity (LLC?) to operate a new farmer's market on Sundays within the BID area."

That's NOT giving money to Vitalization, or a subsidiary of it, and saying "go for it." The new entity would essentially do what Vitalization does for the Wednesday market. That concept may not be shared by Les Watt and Mason Shayan. I think we're about to find out if they can make that stretch.

Make sense?